Ceremonial Arrival

MARBELLA HALL STUDY

Three interior directions for a private villa entrance hall, exploring symmetry, ornament and the language of Italian-inspired luxury.

CONCEPT WORK FOR NOVA KASYANOV

Private residential project / Marbella, Spain

Concept proposals - not completed interiors

The art of arrival.

The entrance hall was imagined as a ceremonial introduction to a private residence in Marbella - a space where architectural symmetry, warm stone, reflective metal and decorative symbolism create an immediate sense of presence.

Developed during the conceptual design phase for NOVA KASYANOV, the study explored three interpretations of the same spatial idea. Each proposal changes the character of the entrance while respecting the established architectural setting.

MY CONTRIBUTION

Alternative design proposals · material palettes · moodboards · architectural visualisation

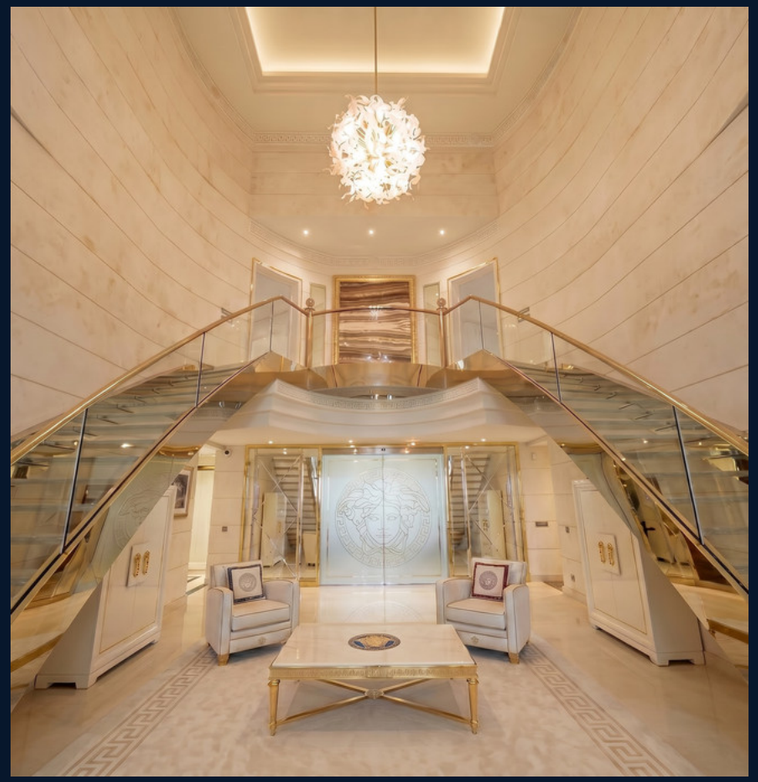

Concept 02 / a quieter interpretation of the ornamental setting

One hall. Three readings.

01 ORNAMENTAL STATEMENT

A decorative floor anchors the ceremonial axis.

02 REFINED SYMMETRY

A lighter, more restrained treatment of the setting.

03 DRAMATIC CONTRAST

A dark focal plane deepens the sense of drama.

PROPOSAL 01 / EXPRESSION

Ornamental statement

A richly patterned floor textile introduces colour, movement and emblematic ornament. The gold-toned architectural detailing and central motif strengthen the theatrical quality of the double-height entrance.

The most expressive version, designed to turn the hall into an immediate visual signature.

CONCEPT VISUALISATION / NOT A PHOTOGRAPH

PROPOSAL 02 / RESTRAINT

Refined symmetry

A quieter interpretation that softens the visual intensity. Neutral textiles, light-toned flooring and restrained detailing shift attention toward the sweep of the twin staircases and the central architectural axis.

This direction places spatial rhythm ahead of decorative contrast, creating a lighter arrival sequence.

CONCEPT VISUALISATION / NOT A PHOTOGRAPH

PROPOSAL 03 / CONTRAST

Dramatic identity

A darker central backdrop is juxtaposed with pale stone and polished gold. The return of the ornamental floor emphasizes the visual tension between opulence, symmetry and the architectural frame.

The strongest contrast of the three - a visual proposal rather than a definitive or constructed solution.

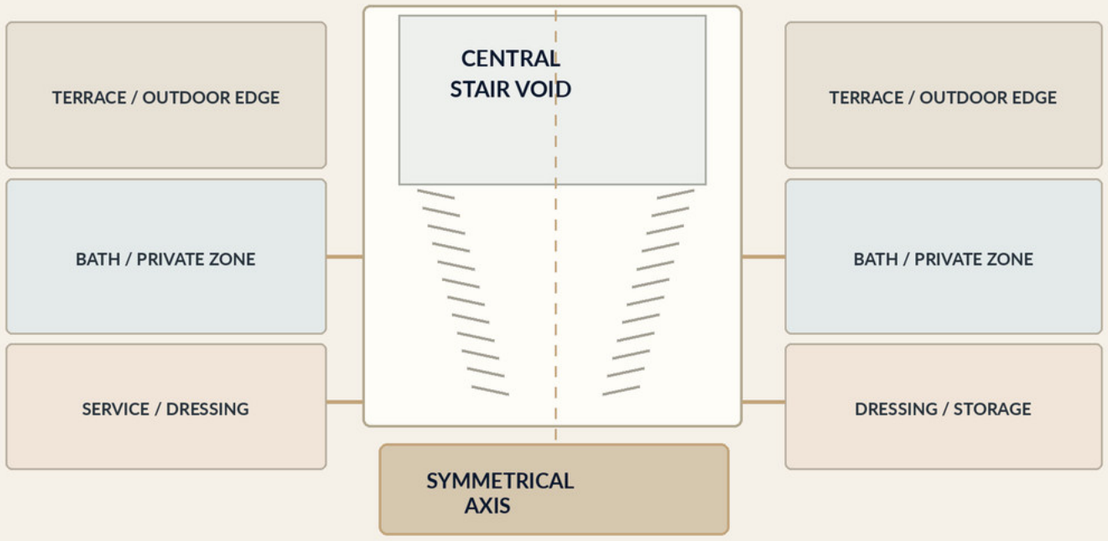

CONCEPT VISUALISATION / NOT A PHOTOGRAPH

The axis and the experience.

The upper-floor reference suggests a symmetrical composition: a central double stair sequence framed by lateral bathrooms, dressing/storage and terrace edges. The diagram clarifies relationships, not dimensions.

UPPER-FLOOR SPATIAL LOGIC

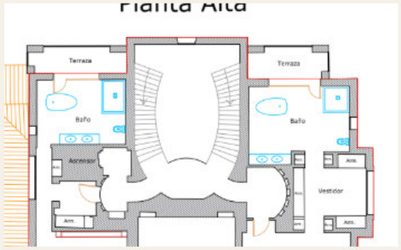

Conceptual zoning inferred from the supplied reference plan - not to scale

01 CEREMONIAL CENTRAL AXIS

02 TWO BRANCHING STAIRWAYS

03 LATERAL ROOMS

Supplied upper-floor plan

Source material retained for reference only; original resolution is low.

SCHEMATIC ONLY / NOT A MEASURED PLAN OR CONSTRUCTION DRAWING

An editorial, not a gallery.

The page should feel part of the existing Art of Meaning universe without repeating the same layout used for every project.

01

OPENING

One generous architectural image and a short, quiet introduction.

02

THREE PROPOSALS

Equal-weight visual comparison; no false single-final-version narrative.

03

SPATIAL LOGIC

One restrained conceptual diagram, optional rather than dominant.

04

ROLE & CREDIT

Transparent attribution to NOVA KASYANOV and concept-only status.

Ceremonial Arrival

Three visions for a Marbella entrance hall

PROJECT INTRODUCTION

An entrance conceived as a moment of arrival. Developed during the concept phase for the NOVA KASYANOV design team, this private residential study explores three interpretations of Italian-inspired grandeur - from expressive ornament to restrained symmetry and dramatic contrast.

THE DESIGN APPROACH

The proposals explore the relationship between a monumental staircase, a strong central axis and a layered material palette. Warm stone, metallic accents, decorative motifs and contrasting textiles shape different experiences of the same hall.

CONTRIBUTION

Concept development · alternative design proposals · material palette research · moodboards · architectural visualisations.

Attribution: Concept work prepared for NOVA KASYANOV · Private client, Marbella, Spain

Status: conceptual study; proposals only. Independent project, not an official Versace collaboration.

One story, three languages.

PL / TEKST DO PUBLIKACJI

Hol wejściowy jako doświadczenie. Studium koncepcyjne przygotowane dla zespołu NOVA KASYANOV na potrzeby prywatnej rezydencji w Marbelli obejmowało trzy warianty aranżacji inspirowanej włoskim luksusem. Monumentalna klatka schodowa, symetria, kamień, złote akcenty i dekoracyjne motywy stały się punktem wyjścia do poszukiwania różnych nastrojów tej samej przestrzeni.

Mój zakres: opracowanie wariantów koncepcji, propozycje materiałowe i kolorystyczne, moodboardy oraz wizualizacje architektoniczne.

ES / RESUMEN BREVE

Un estudio conceptual del vestíbulo de una residencia privada en Marbella, desarrollado para el equipo de NOVA KASYANOV. Tres propuestas exploran la simetría, la ornamentación y las variaciones de materiales para crear distintas experiencias de llegada.

Participación: desarrollo conceptual, propuestas alternativas, investigación de materiales, moodboards y visualizaciones arquitectónicas.

Curated and credible.

DESIGN SYSTEM

Use existing Cinzel/Montserrat, navy and warm-ivory palette, restrained champagne accents; do not add a separate Versace visual theme.

HONEST CREDIT

Display “Concept work for NOVA KASYANOV”. Do not imply a built project, independent authorship of architecture, or official brand affiliation.

IMAGE ORDER

Hero: 01. Comparison: 01, 02, 03 side by side. Preserve the original three proposals as distinct concept alternatives.

RESPONSIVE & ACCESSIBLE

Use responsive picture sizes, descriptive alt text and existing EN/PL/ES switch. Avoid magnifying low-res plans.

SPATIAL BOARD

Use the supplied new semantic diagram as a labeled, non-technical reading of the upper-floor plan. Keep source raster available separately.

POSITIONING

Secondary concept study under Residential / Design Studies, not the lead signature project. Art-led flagship work remains first.

A study in symbolic luxury.

DESIGN INTENT · CONCEPT EXPERIMENTATION · ARCHITECTURAL VISUAL STORYTELLING

Publication requires permission from the rights holders and an accurate NOVA KASYANOV credit.

Not associated with or endorsed by Versace.